

U. S. AGENTS HUNTING LADY ASTOR WINS HOARDED COAL HERE VOTES AT PLYMOUTH

Palmer Issues Order, Suspecting Speculators of Hoarding Stocks.

RAIL SERVICE CURTAILED

Marshall Answers Attorney-General—Good Fuel Supply in Dwellings.

Department of Justice officers here received orders from Attorney-General A. Mitchell Palmer yesterday to institute an immediate hunt for coal that may be hoarded by speculators in and about New York city.

With these orders, which were transmitted to Joseph Baker, head of the local Bureau of Investigation, came official communications for Francis G. Caffrey and Leroy W. Ross of Brooklyn, United States Attorneys, directing them to ascertain whether there is evidence of collusion between dealers to boost prices. Federal authorities here said that all available operatives will be assigned to this work and that evidence, if found, will be presented quickly to the federal grand jury.

George Winship Taylor, one of Mr. Caffrey's assistants, issued a general warning that told of the restoration of the Presidential proclamation of the tariff prices established by the United States Food and Fuel Administration during the war. He added that profiteers would be summarily punished.

Although the cutting of railway service for the purpose of conserving available fuel began yesterday on many lines, in accordance with announcements made previously, it was said authoritatively last night that the passenger schedules on New England railroads would escape any general curtailment of freight service in New England and that a plan had been arranged for a priority system of deliveries to commercial consumers of bituminous coal already consigned to them for immediate necessities must make application direct to the delivering railroad, giving the amount of coal required and reason for preference.

Anxiety Over Small Supplies.

Much anxiety was evident yesterday among individuals and of officers of companies lest their stocks become depleted before the termination of the strike, and efforts to increase supplies were exerted in many quarters.

W. A. Marshall, president of the Wholesale Coal Trade Association, issued a statement after a meeting of the organization, declaring that there is an average supply of sixty days on hand, and that the majority of consumers have enough coal to last from two to four months. A few, he said, are in a bad plight because their storage facilities are limited.

"It is our opinion," he said, "that the stocks of bituminous coal now in the hands of the railroads, the large stock of steam sizers of anthracite, accumulated by reason of lack of market, and the production of a normal quantity of domestic coal, which, if the strike is prolonged, will be greatly increased by the influx of labor from union districts, will meet the needs of that small percentage of consumers whose present supply is limited."

Mr. Marshall included these views in a letter which he sent to Attorney-General Palmer replying to that official's communication published yesterday morning. As Mr. Palmer had expressed amazement at a suggestion made by him that the dealers be not interfered with, he explained that this suggestion had been made before the Federal Government restored the wartime prices and that his purpose had been misconstrued.

Law Puzzles Jersey City.

Residents of Jersey City are perplexed as to the effect of an ordinance prohibiting the use of soft coal there, as shortage of anthracite is threatened because of inability to arrange its importation. It is expected that the city ban will be lifted pending the emergency. P. J. Donohue, superintendent of the Public Service Corporation, declared that there was no likelihood of the New Jersey trolley systems shutting down, as their supply is sufficient to last considerably longer.

Word was received here that 600 cars loaded with bituminous coal had been seized at Syracuse by order of the fuel authorities, and that any more shipments arriving there would be taken over by similar order. Syracuse, it was said, will be the point of distribution for central New York if the strike is prolonged.

Several New England States took action to protect public interest, and the State Commission on Necessaries of Life of Massachusetts instructed dealers to make deliveries of bituminous coal only for immediate consumption.

Amos J. Cawey, editor of the American Coal Journal, said last night he had been informed that apartment houses and homes of the Greater New York district have about 60 per cent. of their normal supply in their cellars. "This is an unusually good showing for this time of the year," he said. "With big office buildings and plants the situation is not so favorable, but there is nothing in particular to worry about at this time."

Wed Three Weeks: Gets Alimony.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 2.—Courtroom two years and married three weeks, Mary Allen, 52, has sued John A. Allen, 55, for alimony, alleging that in the brief married career he failed to support her. Allen was placed under bond by the court to insure payment of $25 a month alimony.

nimbly aboard the boat, assisted by a policeman and a fisherman. Seven men were taken. Then the grizzled captain of the boat was posed beside Lady Astor, and the candidate improved the opportunity while the cameras were clicking by asking the captain: "Will you vote for me?" He readily nodded assent.

"Cross your heart," insisted Lady Astor, and the sailor complied. Lady Astor then returned to her carriage and standing in it made a brief talk, exchanged remarks with the crowd and answered the hecklers, generally assailing them with a few barbed words, but with all evidences of good humor. Some of her shafts were:

"I think you all know who is the workman's friend."

"If some people had what we have they would not be down here bothering for votes."

"You should go down on your knees and thank God you've got some one honest to represent you."

"I like people's children to be treated as I treat my own."

"But for the fact that there are women none of you would be here."

Gets Promises of Votes.

She concluded by asking "how many are going to vote for me? Hold up your hands."

The men, women and children, almost without exception, extended their hands.

The independent unionist candidate, Lionel Jacobs, who had the support of a number of unionists opposing Lady Astor on the ground of sex, to-night withdrew his candidacy.

The labor candidate, W. T. Gay, and his liberal opponent, Isaac Foot, have indicated that Lady Astor's American birth, the possession of wealth, the fact that she is a woman, and her attitude regarding prohibition are points upon which her candidacy will be attacked.

Lady Astor issued to-day an address "to the electors of the Sutton Division of Plymouth," appealing for their votes. "I come before you in all humility,"

Lady Astor says, "fully conscious of all my limitations. If you decide that Plymouth is once again to help in making history by being the first English constituency with a woman member in Parliament I shall do all in my power to maintain the high traditions of the borough, the ideals of my sex and the credit of Parliament."

"I intend to work for peace, progress and the prosperity of the country. I shall at the same time have due regard for national efficiency and economy, which women, above all, understand. During the war I worked for the soldiers and sailors, their wives and children, as well as for all others who were serving at home and abroad. I now ask them to work for me in order that I may work for them in Parliament."

"I believe I know the real Plymouth, its children and women and its social problems better than any other of the candidates. With this knowledge and with your knowledge of me based on my past record as a guide to the future, I ask the electors to let me represent them."

The address is signed "Nancy Astor."

MRS. LILLY LEGALLY IN RACE, SON SAYS

Candidate for Assembly Won Civil Service Post.

Joseph Lilly, son of Mrs. Mary M. Lilly, Democratic member of the Assembly from the Seventh district, replied yesterday to the question raised by the Citizens' Union as to Mrs. Lilly's eligibility for reelection to-day.

Mr. Lilly said that when Mrs. Lilly accepted a position as director of women prisoners on Blackwell's Island in June last at a salary of $2,100 a year she became liable to the provision of the State Constitution which provides that no member of the Legislature may hold a municipal office.

Mr. Lilly said that the sections of the Constitution referred to applied to offices held by appointment. He said that his mother was appointed to the Blackwell's Island position because she was first on a civil service list after a competitive examination.

"The provisions of the State Constitution were never intended to and never did exclude members of the Assembly from participation in the civil service of the State," Mr. Lilly said.

LA GUARDIA EXPECTS TO GET POLICE VOTES

Says Men Resent Pleas for Support for Moran.

Speaking to a crowd of 3,000 persons at Far Rockaway last night Representative F. H. La Guardia, the Republican candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen, declared he had been told that all policemen when relieved in the various station houses in the afternoon had been requested to vote for the election of Robert L. Moran, the Tammany candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen.

His information, the candidate said, was that the police were so disgusted at the attempt to dictate to them that they expressed themselves privately at more than ever determined to vote for La Guardia.

All efforts to get details of the alleged attempt to influence the policemen by their superiors failed last night. No member of the force would acknowledge that the reported incident had occurred.

A report also became current to-night that officials of the policemen's organization thought it wise to vote for La Guardia. This could not be verified, as the men were careful not to have their actions discovered by headquarters.

Many evidences have reached Mr. La Guardia that the police and firemen as well as other city employees, are more than favorable to his candidacy.

PALMER GETS MYSTERY VIAL

Bottle Containing Colorless Liquid Sent Through Mails.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—A curious looking package, inscribed in German script, was delivered through the mails at Attorney-General Palmer's office to-day. It was turned over to the Bureau of Investigation, where it was discovered the package contained a bottle of liquid, labeled "Boric Acid," on one side and bearing a German inscription on the other. Handled gingerly, the bottle was put in a safe place until the colorless contents could be analyzed.

The package was sent by parcel post from New York. Officials are inclined to think it was intended as a joke.

BIG VOTE CERTAIN IN TO-DAY'S BATTLE

Jacob L. Livingston, the Republican leader, was specific.

"The Republican party looks for a plurality in Kings county ranging from 10,000 to 15,000," he said. "We confidently expect to elect ten or twelve Assemblymen and four Aldermen, as well as three of the five Municipal Court Justices."

Mayor Hyman issued an appeal yesterday for the reelection of Robert L. Moran, President of the Board of Aldermen, who in the past has followed so closely the lead of the Mayor in the Board of Estimate as to earn a rebuke from Gov. Smith. For the first time in the history of the city a Mayor in advocating the election of a candidate, issued it in the form of a proclamation addressed "to the Men and Women of New York."

It read in part as follows: "To-morrow when you go to the polls you are going to decide whether you are loyal to those in public office who are fighting your battles for you."

"Robert L. Moran, the Democratic candidate for the President of the Board of Aldermen, has been your true friend, a loyal and honest public servant."

"The traction trust is working hard to defeat Robert L. Moran and to elect Floriella La Guardia as President of the Board of Aldermen.

"You know where Moran stands, but no one except possibly the traction trust knows where La Guardia stands." The last part of the statement reads like an editorial in a Hearst newspaper. The only difference is that Mr. Hearst is advocating the election of La Guardia, as well as of the other Republican candidates, under the general crusade of "Swat the Boss."

Hyman Injects Carfare Issue.

The Hyman lieutenant, known as the Vigilance Committee, issued a statement in which they said neither Representative La Guardia nor Mayor Curran had answered their questionnaire as to increased fares. As a matter of fact neither candidate has made an issue of this situation one way or the other. The committee stated that Mr. Moran and Mr. Boyle, Tammany candidates for President of the Borough of Manhattan, stood with Mayor Hyman in his attitude on the traction situation.

"I shall win," said Representative La Guardia. "All I can say is that Tammany is endeavoring to make a strategic retreat and save a part of the ticket. We are following it up closely and will carry the entire ticket in Manhattan, and, of course, in Brooklyn as well."

Major Curran denounced as evidence of the desperate straits to which Tammany had been reduced that a group of Democratic women had been told they would invalidate their Democratic enrollment if they dared to vote for Curran. In a statement yesterday the Citizens' Union said that in order to win a 100 per cent. victory on the judiciary issue the voters must elect Philip J. McCook as well as Justice Newburger, in other words that both of the Tammany candidates must be defeated.

The same organization also explained away an advertisement in which Edward F. Boyle is making capital of some kind words said about him by the Citizens' Union when he was running for the Municipal Court.

"We believe that at the present time," the statement said, "it is of importance to have in the Board of Estimate a man who would be entirely free from the partisan affiliation either with Mayor Hyman or with Tammany Hall. Mr. Boyle, as a codistrict leader with Charles F. Murphy and as chairman of the Tammany general committee, could not be expected to act as freely as Mr. Curran."

GRIFFINS FLYING TO TAMPA.

Made Seventy Miles an Hour on Leg to North Carolina.

Special Dispatch to THE SUN.

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Nov. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Griffin and their three-year-old son arrived here yesterday in a flying boat, having made the trip from Port Washington, L. I., in six hours, maintaining a speed of seventy miles an hour. The party left to-day for Tampa, Fla., as destination of the fliers.

The flight was without special incident except a forty mile gale over the Dismal Swamp. Aviators usually give this swamp a wide berth, fearing inability to find a landing place if forced to descend.

the original prices is in progress. The sale will continue throughout the week, but no longer! As these paintings are originals and consequently but "one of a kind," the obvious thing to do is buy now while the selection is still large. And the selection is large, for our entire stock is involved

Most of the paintings were bought directly from the artists in Italy, France, England and Holland. The remaining ones were contributed by well-known American artists. There are works by National Academicians, works by an artist who was commissioned by the French government to make paintings of the war and who executed four pictures especially for us.

A variety of subjects represented. Figures, landscapes and animals are added to the war subjects already mentioned. They are in a variety of sizes and are appropriately framed.
